3014. Choose a Song for the Next "Saunis and Friends" Concert 3/4/2017

Service

Is there a song that holds special meaning for you? A song your Grandpa sang you? A song you think would stump us? A song you love to sing and think others would enjoy? Then this is the opportunity for you. The Saunis and Friends Concert VIP package includes the chance to pick a song for the show, admission to the concert, and the opportunity to introduce the song, or even to perform it with the group for the concert. It's hard to put a price on this, but it can take several hours to work up a new song, especially with a large group of musicians. We've had a lot of fun when we've done this in the past and you never know what people will come up with. The concert may be PG-13, so parental discretion may be advised, in case songs with more "adult" themes are requested. Song must be selected by January 2, 2017. 5 offered!

3024. On Being Photography with Debra-Lynn Hook

Service

The winner of this offer can shape it to their liking: We can spend the hour at a tea shop understanding shutter speed, depth of field, ISO and F-stops. We can talk about photography as a tool for activism, spiritual growth and income. We can walk together in the woods with our cameras and see what catches our eye. We can go to a photo exhibit and talk about what we like and don't. We can simply talk, about our philosophy of the craft. I look forward to being present to wherever this takes us.

3025. Matting & Framing Class

Service

Learn a new skill! With some basic equipment and know-how, you can mat and frame your art pieces yourself. Learn how to create a mat and simple frame for your averagium (or, magnum!) opus, treasured first works of art, or any piece that deserves a modest rendering. Come and discover how easy it is to fabricate a mat & frame yourself. Learn what equipment is needed should you decide to get serious about this fun, practical, and valuable skill. Claudia Miller will navigate the whole process using local resources where possible: where to purchase framing and matting material, glass, and finishing gear. We'll determine what you need to frame your piece, and put it together. I will provide a simple frame and matting material, glass, finishing and hanging gear. Please select a medium size work, e.g., 5X 7, 8X10 or 8½X11 inch.

3029. Socrates Cafe 3/31/2017

Event/Outing

How do you know when you know yourself? What is boredom? What is courage? Are labels on people helpful or destructive? Socrates Cafe events provide a forum and structure for discussing big, philosophical questions. Unlike most meetings, there is no desire to reach consensus, but rather, it is said that a good Socrates Cafe will leave you with more questions than answers. These events, inspired by Christopher Phillips' book, are held around the world and are designed to be participatory, where various people can share ideas from their own unique background. The discussions are based on the Socratic method of questioning in a respectful and thoughtful environment, and aim to promote empathy and understanding. Come with questions that you would like to discuss, then participants anonymously vote to determine the direction of the dialogue. Lively conversation coordinated by Lisa Thiel and Kim Homsher, as well as delicious homemade snacks and beverages. Good food, great company, and unparalleled philosophical discussion.

3033. Yeast Bread Classes - Last Chance! 2/4/17

Dinner Party

This will be our third and final year to offer a bread baking class with a full day of elegant hospitality!

Our bread baking choices for this class will be Swedish Limpa, a traditional Scandinavian comfort food! Honey and orange zest blend with the more exotic flavors of anise and cardamom in this delicious Swedish rye bread. The second choice will be Braided Lemon Bread. This bread combines a soft and tender sweet dough with the tangy flavor of lemon, and wraps it all up in a beautiful yet easy-to-shape mock braid, a perfect brunch treat. Claudia will share techniques and tips to create scrumptious masterpieces that will impress your friends and family! You'll go home with fresh bread and a souvenir booklet of recipes and lore to help you bring the tantalizing aromas of yeast bread into your kitchen.

Ann's carte de jour will start us off with her famous Alaskan blueberry muffins served with robust coffee as we plan and prepare for the day. Lunch will be a vegetarian soup with 'accompaniments', a French Baguette, and dessert TBD, and will be served while our doughs rest and proof. As we await the last loaves to come out of the oven, we'll enjoy a mid-afternoon snack of wine & cheese.
